WASHINGTON, May 16.—The Senate met at 11:30 A. M. The galleries were crowded, and the petitioners were standing in the aisle.

Mr. Hendricks gave notice that he would offer an amendment when it came up for action.

When the reading was concluded, Mr. Edmunds called up the order heretofore submitted, in the following words:

Ordered, that the Chief Justice, in directing the reading of the several articles of impeachment, shall direct him to read the 11th article first, and the question shall be taken on that article, and thereafter on the other ten successively, as they stand, in order.

The following:

Ordered, that the Secretary be directed to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate, sitting for trial of the President on the charge of impeachment, are ready to receive them in the Senate chamber.

Which was adopted.

Senator Johnson inquired whether the order of Senator Williams was debatable.

The answer, in the affirmative, was read.

Senator Johnson said that he would make a remark on it.

Mr. Conness objected.

The question was then put on taking any objection to the order of Senator Williams, and it was decided in the affirmative.

Yea—Messrs. Anthony, Cameron, Corbett, Chandler, Cole, Conkling, Cressie, Cattell, Cushman, Edwards, Fessenden, Fessenden, Hays, Harlan, Howard, Howe, Morgan, Morrill, of Maine, Morrill, of Vermont, Martin, Nye, Patterson, of New Hampshire, Pomeroy, Ramsey, Sherman, Spurgeon, Tilden, of New York, and Tilden, of Illinois.

Wiley and Yates.

Nays: Messrs. Bayard, Buckwalter, Davis, Dixon, Doolittle, Fessenden, Fowler, Henderson, Hendricks, Johnson, McCreary, Morrill, Platteau, Ransom, Tilden, Van Hook, Van Winkle, Vickers, Wiley.

While the votes were being taken the members of the House were announced as the bar of the Senate; they entered, headed by Mr. Hendricks, and Mr. Fessenden rose to make a motion to postpone the vote for an hour, on account of the absence of Mr. Grimes, but, on being informed that the Senator was in the Capitol, he did not make the

Mr. Grimes immediately afterwards came in and took a seat in one side alley. Mr. Edmunds submitted an order that the Senate should not proceed with the collection of articles according to the rules of the Senate. Agreed to.

The Chief Justice, rising, said: My direction of the Senate, the Chief Justice desires to address the citizens and strangers in the galleries. It is the duty of the Senate to do as required. It will be a subject of infinite regret if any violation of the order of the Senate shall necessitate the execution of further order, that the persons guilty of disturbance

Then, addressing the Senators, the Chief Justice said: Senators, In conformity to the order of the Senate, the Chief Justice now proceed to take the vote on the 11th article, which is now before the rule. The 11th article was read by the clerk.

The first minute on the roll (Anthony) being called, that Senator rose, and the Chief Justice, also standing, addressed to him this formula:

Senator Anthony, how say you: is the respondent, Andrew Johnson, President of the United States, guilty or not guilty of the high misdemeanor as charged in the article read by the clerk?

For Conviction—Messrs. Anthony, Eakin, G. Smith, Hammond, Cole, Conners, Corbett, Cullum, Cullum, Drake, Edmunds, Ferry, Frettinghuyssen, Harlan, Howard, Howe, Morgan, Morrill, of Maine, Morrill, of Vermont, Morton, Nye, Patterson, of New Hampshire, Pennoyer, Ramsey, of Oregon, Sargent, Shaw, of Oregon, Tamm, of Tennessee, Wade, Williams, Wilson and Yates.

The voters of the Senators were waited for with the utmost anxiety, though no modification of a general million of suspicion relieved was made manifest when the vote of a doubtful Senator was given. It was noticed that Senator Cameron voted ahead of time for the Chief Justice, and that the final formal question before the senators was the question pronounced by Senators Fessenden, Fowler, Grimes, Ross, Trumbull and Van Winkle are among the Republican Senators.

Senator Johnson—It is in order to adjourn the Senate when it has already decided one of the articles.

The Chief Justice, The President and the Speaker of the House, accepted in one case the announcement of Mr. Illinois, and in another case, the announcement until the end of the case. The chair will however take the motion of the Senate, and if it is so desired, the announcement will be made now. Mr. Sherman's announcement of the vote will be made.

Mr. Drake— I submit as a question of order that motion to adjourn is pending, and the motion takes precedence of all other things.

Chief Justice— The Senator from Missouri is perfectly right; a motion to adjourn has the precedence, and the motion to adjourn carries the precedence.

Mr. Drake's motion to adjourn cannot be made pending a vote, and a vote not complete until announced.

Mr. Conkling—A motion cannot be made pending roll call.
Several Senators said—Certainly not; the vote be announced.
Senator Johnson—I ask that the vote
be announced.
Chief Justice—The vote will be announced.
The clerk will read the roll.
The clerk having been read by the clerk, the Chief Justice arose and announced the result in these words: On this article there are thirty-five Senators who have voted "guilty."

Mr. Williams' motion to adjourn on Tuesday, the 26th inst., was then taken up. Mr. Hendricks submitted, as a question of order, that the Senate was not in a quorum, and that such was its nature and had no effect of the previous question. Therefore, his motion to adjourn otherwise than simply adjourn was not in order.

He called to order at 10:00 a.m. The motion that when the Senate adjourns to meet at a certain date or day, not be entertained, because the day or date was in process of executing the motion to adjourn to a certain day, seems to be the one to come under the same rule. The chair therefore decides the motion not in order.

Mr. GUNNESS.—From that decision I apprehend that the Justice put the question, and read the chair to read the order adopted that day.

On motion of Mr. Edmunds, as follows:

Ordered, That the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the bill, No. 1, 1871, to
